I have corrected the date to December 21st 2012 (instead of December 21st 2011)
This is just for documentation purposes.

The website is done.

Prophecies of doomsday

Yet another failed prophecy of yet another doomsday! Posters, internet and many such media gave out grave warnings of the doomsday on May 21st 2011. There were similar doomsday prophecies made many times earlier, by many soothsayers, but they all failed! Including the famous Nostradamus.

I have studied the planetary positions on these days and found nothing to indicate that the world would end or destroy. On other times I have indicated of some catastrophes or natural disasters but not the end of the world, or the 3rd world war. The calculations were done on basis of Hindu Vedic Astrology. I had written in my last newsletter that there would be fires, earthquakes and storms in days to come. Here are some excerpts from my newsletter April 21st 2011.

“There have been some difficult planetary configurations and clusters and they could cause some explosive energies in our Solar system. There may be some solar flares and big solar storms and explosions happening soon.”

“This placement is causing some stiff opposition energies amongst the planets which could result in some great fires, explosions, earthquakes and even escalate some war situations.

“America will continue its hardships in economy and the government will face many challenges until November this year. Uncertain and wrong policies will make the situation worse. The country will go further in financial deficit due to misjudged actions and military expenses. The country’s troubles are far from over.

You must have heard of the Arizona fire, which is still burning over 732 square miles, destroyed 491 buildings and cost about $400 million, a volcano that erupted in Chile after 50 years and some other fires that occurred recently. Also the war situation worsens in Afghanistan and extends to Libya, Syria, and the civil war in Egypt and nearby countries. Recently there was a huge flood in Mississippi. The Mississippi River floods in April and May 2011 were among the largest and most damaging recorded along the U.S. waterway in the past century, comparable in extent to the major floods of 1927 and 1993.

They now say that the end of the world would be October 21st 2011. Well, let's have a look at the planets on this date. Venus, Sun and Mercury are in Libra rising with Jupiter opposite in Aries. Mars and Moon are in Cancer in the 10th house. Saturn in the 12th house in Virgo and Rahu in Scorpio. I would call this a Boom day instead of doomsday! I see this as a time for prosperity and good times for America, especially after November 15th. So relax folks, more time to be spent on planet earth!

It was prophesized that the world would end by the 2nd coming of Christ. Jesus was the son of God who came to earth to give the message of love, peace, tolerance, wisdom and righteousness. He came to show us the way of life. His prime message was love. Love all, serve all. Why then would the world end with the 2nd coming of Christ? Any sense? In fact, the whole world would change for the better and learn to live in peace and harmony. God never intends to destroy His own creation. He always gives us love.

I see the coming times as the transition of the present times into the new age. The age of righteousness, truth, light, love and new consciousness. As per the Hindu scriptures, the time has come for this new age. Of course there is going to be no magic overnight, not even on December 21st 2011! But a new pure divine light enters the earth to propagate the world into the new age.

There would be some natural calamities here and there, but that is not the wrath of God. There would be storms and earthquakes, but these are environmental phenomena of action and reaction. There would also be wars here and there, and these are because of unrighteousness, ego, greed and wrong actions of man. But with the advent of the new age, there will be a change in the minds, hearts and consciousness of man, and people will transform with a higher understanding of God's divinity.

We could predict about events, natural phenomena and about people and world situations, but it would be absurd to predict the end of the world, for He, the creator alone knows the best. But I do see God's plan of transformation of mankind so that humanity may live in divine consciousness, in love, peace and harmony. All will believe and follow the brotherhood of man and fatherhood of God. This is God's will and this will surely happen.

That what is past cannot change. It is absolutely unalterable. The future is an uncertain dream based on hope and faith. The present is the most important, since it is our moment of awareness and also the basis for some foundations of the future. So let's believe in today, and do our best for peace, harmony and prosperity for the world. Instead of spending billions of dollars on wars, the government should use that money to restore jobs, businesses and towards growth of the country. Instead of changing regimes of other countries, we should try to bring positive transformations in people's minds and hearts. When the righteous human and spiritual values are promoted in the world, only then can there be peace and prosperity in the world. God wants transformation, and not destruction. Let's leave some things to God and do our bit of keeping things going in the world and believe in live and let live.

May God bless the world
