Dear friends,

Today is November 16th 2011, and there has been a major planetary change which will affect many individuals and countries, including the United States of America and India.

The mighty planet Saturn moved yesterday, November 15th, after about 2 and a half years. Saturn has been transiting the zodiac sign of Virgo and moved into Libra yesterday. The Sun moved into Scorpio today and join Venus, Mercury and Rahu. Moon is in Cancer, Mars is in Leo and Jupiter in Aries.

First of all, let's look at the planets for America. With Saturn moving out from Virgo, America can heave a sigh of relief. This country was going through huge challenges with economy crisis, war, poor growth, debt and overall discontentment. The good news is that the economic crisis will ease out now and the country will start stabilizing soon. As I mentioned in my earlier newsletters, America will grow economically by joining hands with some eastern countries, and through foreign trades, money will come in. Between now and the next 7 months, America will become strong again, although it will do best between June 2013 to June 2014.

For India, the situation does not look good. Starting now, and within the next 3 years, India will see many changes and dissolutions. There may be upheavals and great changes coming in the country. In all probability, the present government shall fall. There may be dangers from enemies and attacks from neighboring countries. Some very famous celebrities and politicians will pass away either by natural deaths or through vehicular crashes. There will be some airline crashes, ship sinking, train crashes and the Navy will be facing some challenges as well. Oceans and seas will wreak havoc on coastlines. These 3 years will change the face of India, politically, socially and economically. At the end of 3 years from now, India will see a new light, a new wave and a new age will be established.

Back to America. Poor Barrack Obama! No matter how hard he tries and what he does, things just don't happen the way he hoped they would. He will be facing a very stiff challenge at his office. He begins the major period of Saturn in October 2012. But he will also come into some sunshine from June 2012 onwards. We must understand that America was supposed to go through a very bad time since the last 2 and a half years. Even if Bill Clinton was the president at this time, he would have failed miserably and would have probably had 10 heart attacks by now. If you recall, some presidential candidates have withdrawn their names in the recent past. This is not because of any personal reasons, but because they know very well that it was too risky taking over a sinking ship, so they fled. Anyone can stake their claim to be the next president when the going is good and everything was laid out nicely. Like George Bush had. So let's not be too harsh on Obama. It was just the destiny of America, which I had predicted 2 years ago. Fortunately, the harsh times are over so let's all be positive in thoughts and actions, and from now on, work smartly to improve the country's condition.

Now let us see how this Saturn transit in Libra, affects individual horoscopes, on basis of the moon signs calculated as per the Hindu Vedic Astrology.

Those who have the moon sign of Aries may need to move from their present place, and / or travel overseas. There may also be some concerns about parents within the next couple of years. There may be some separating issues with spouse and a moving away from home. Aries signs should take thoughtful decisions and not be hasty. Wearing a White Sapphire would help in balancing these negative energies.

Taurus signs should take care of their health and be cautious against accidents until June 2012. After that, they should be okay.

Gemini signs can relax as they just got over a bad transit. They will move on in life to the next phase of life, in every area.

Cancer signs may have to go through some mental and emotional stresses, and may have to change residence and may also experience some challenges with their spouses. It would be better for Cancer signs to wear a natural pearl set in Silver.

Leo signs get total relief from the seven and a half year cycle of Saturn. They will have a great time now and until the next year.

Virgo moon sign get relief from the peak intensity of Saturn, but the Saturn cycle will not get over yet. However, from the spring of next year, there will be some good and positive changes in their lives.

Libra moon signs are now in the peak of the Saturn cycle so will have some stress dealing with work or may have to change their place of work. They may have to move or travel, but for the sign Libra, Saturn is not so bad as Saturn rules positive avenues.

Scorpio signs begin their seven and a half year cycle of Saturn, but they will get relief from mental and physical ailments soon. They can look forward to better times from June 2012 onwards.

Sagittarius signs may now have to deal with some mental stresses and have some concerns about their children and some stomach problems.

Capricorn moon signs should get ready to face some difficulties at their work area and some disagreements with their spouses and partners. It would be advisable for them to wear a small Blue Sapphire set in Silver.

Aquarius signs just finished a difficult transit and can hope for better times now. This is going to be a Karmic time for them and they will seek wisdom and practice spiritual Karma. A kind of inner healing time for them.

Pisces moon signs may have some changes coming at their work place and may also face some tensions on account of their children. Digestive system will not be too good and therefore are advised to eat mostly vegetarian foods.

The wheel of time keeps moving and brings forth new scenarios around people's lives. They say "Time is the best healer", but Time is also the tamer and the great teacher, as it opens our minds to new changes and challenges. Good and bad, joys and sorrows are obverse and reverse of the same coin. The coin flips sometimes this way, the other way. Everything in life is ordained as per our Karma and destiny. The only Will that prevails is the Will of God. (Thy Will be done) We humans have been given a mind, senses, discriminatory powers, conscience and a consciousness. We deal with life using all of these. If wisdom prevails over mind and senses, then actions becomes righteous. If conscience guides every action, then Karma becomes good. If man dwells in his consciousness, he becomes one with God. The one, who becomes one with God, will not have any suffering ever, for he shall overcome the existence of sorrows and pains of the mind, and free from the fear of diseases and death. He shall be beyond the desires and temptations, and will forever be in divine bliss.

God bless
